Chew Jackson's Best Sweet Navy Tobacco.

Rejected. We cannot publish the communication of "The Boy that Saves the Precious Child." The parties therein referred to might not "object," yet everybody does not know this; and the Editors would certainly lay themselves liable to a charge of lack of gallantry.

Wet or Dry. Draw a line from Broad River, about Ashford's Ferry, through the village, to Saluda about Bonknight's Ferry, and you have the dividing line between drought and no drought in this County. North of this line there has been scarcely any rain, while South of it there has been almost enough.

The Chappell's Depot section of the County has suffered more from drought than any other.

It will pay you to go to Keene's Tin Shop to get your old tin ware mended. Next door to Foot's.

Rev. H. W. Kuhns. We are happy to learn from a private source that Rev. Kuhns and family are well and happy at their new home in Westminster, Md. His congregation in town is large and flourishing, and he has two other churches in the country, near town. Our informant says that although his people are widely scattered, they all know and love him. He has a splendid new parsonage, which he has furnished in an elegant manner, and he and his family are contented and happy.

[Lutheran Visitor.]

Go to H. A. BURNS for a good assortment of Tobacco, Cigars and Pipes. All prices. Cheap.

Almost a Fire. Friday morning about 3 o'clock while Policeman Jno. A. Kinard was on duty in Amisoka, he heard the cry of "fire" from the old two-story rookery opposite the steam mill. Rushing up stairs he found that the fire was making considerable headway among bedding, &c.

With a bucket or two of water the fire was extinguished. A few minutes more and it would have been too late. The wind at the time was blowing in the direction of Mr. Foot's store, and a fire would have cleaned out Amisoka completely.

Ice will be kept for sale during the season, and can be had at all times at the Confectionery Store of H. A. BURNS.

The Champion Oat Raiser. Captain T. W. Blease, of Big Creek, is the champion oat raiser, having cut and gathered 3,900 dozen bundles. Seventeen hundred dozen bundles threshed and cleaned 1,500 bushels. At this rate his crop would yield about 3,800 bushels, which, at 40 cents per bushel, would be equal to 33 bales of cotton weighing 500 pounds, at 8 cents per pound. And the cost of producing the oats and getting them ready for market was not half the cost of raising and preparing for market 33 bales of cotton. We have said it before, but we say it again—diversify.

[Edgefield Advertiser.]

Every belle knowing the secret of her success in society, is aware that the face and form of Venus would be unattractive with an ungainly carriage. Hence, if she be afflicted with Corns or Bunions, she readily avails herself of the relief afforded by Cussons' Lightning Liniment, which also cures Rheumatism, Lame Back, Neuralgia, &c. Price 50 cents a bottle. For sale by Dr. W. E. Pelham.

The Southern Educational Monthly. Deserves more than a passing notice. It is published by Walker, Evans & Cogswell, of Charleston, and edited by L. B. Haynes. It has for its contributors the Superintendents of this State and Georgia, the Presidents of all our Colleges, male and female, and other distinguished educators. Among the articles in the first number we note the following: To young teachers of classical schools, by J. H. Carlisle, LL.D.; Public schools, and a district tax, by R. Means Davis, Esq.; Sanctified Education, by J. P. Smetzer, D.D.

Every teacher ought certainly to take this journal, and those not teachers will find much in it to their interest and advantage. Fifty cents per annum.

Williamson Female College. We have received a catalogue of this deservedly popular institution. The catalogue itself, printed by Walker, Evans & Cogswell, is one of the neatest pieces of workmanship we ever saw, and it contains a full and minute exhibit of the workings of the College, the plan and course of instruction, discipline, peculiar features, &c. The College is located in one of the healthiest and most refined sections of the State, and is presided over by a gentleman who has no superior as an instructor. From our knowledge of Dr. Lander and of the College we can safely recommend this institution to those who desire to give their daughters a first class education. For a catalogue, address Rev. S. Lander, D.D., President.

GRAND EXCURSION

TO HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., THE 2ND OF AUGUST.

I will run an EXCURSION TRAIN from Alston to Hendersonville, N. C., Saturday, August 2nd. Leave Strother's at 4:35 A. M.; return at 8 P. M. A BRASS BAND will accompany the Excursion, and a hall will be engaged at Hendersonville for those who desire to "trip the light fantastic too." This train will be conducted by MYSELF IN PERSON, and pleasure and comfort are guaranteed. Accommodations will be made for ladies reaching Strother's the night previous to August 2nd.

THE SCENERY ALONG THE ROUTE of this Excursion is the grandest in this country.

Tickets for sale, with dodgers, at Dr. Pelham's Drug Store in Newberry.

Fare for the round trip from Strother's, only $1.00. L. M. HOLLAND, Agt. at Strother's, and Manager of the Excursion.

The Fair Grounds. Are almost cleared, and hands are still at work. Five acres, on which the track will be located, has been cleared of everything—upon the remaining 3-4 acres several oaks have been left for shade. Post holes have been dug, and a solid plank fence, eight feet high, will be put up all around the grounds. Work has begun on a small building in the Southwest corner for the ticket office and committee room. The exhibition building will be located on the lower side of the grounds.

Efforts are being made to get up a Jockey Club, with the intention of buying grounds for racing adjoining the Fair Grounds. We hope they will succeed. It is not a good plan to have a race track under the control of an Agricultural and Mechanical Society; but it would be a good thing to have an independent track near by, so that those who were opposed to races could attend the Fair alone, and those who care nothing for the Fair could attend the races, and those who like both could attend both—and everybody could be satisfied. We want a Fair that will draw a large attendance.

No showy advertisement is needed to present the claims of Cussons' Honey of Tar, which has, by merit alone, won its way to the confidence of the people, and received their endorsement as the best remedy ever known for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. Price 50 cents a bottle. For sale by Dr. W. E. Pelham.

Notes from Across the Border. Mr. James Delonch, who had been seeing three days in succession, was drowned the third day (18th inst.) about noon in Mine Creek, in water about 12 feet deep—five other gentlemen were in company with him, but only one other in the water at the time. Mr. D. was a pious man and a good citizen. He left a wife and four children.

A colored man was drowned the other day while in bathing. His name and other particulars we have not learned.

This community was blessed with a fine rain on the 18th inst. Crops that were looking as if they were almost burned up will yield very well if they have one more rain in reasonable time.

The candidates are the cleverest gentlemen in the County just now—they bring us the news almost daily.

Some of the Little Saluda farmers want to know how much wheat Mr. Thos. Payson sowed to the acre last fall. Others want to know what he feeds his bees on.

Eclectic Magazine. The August number of the Eclectic contains a fine steel-engraved portrait of Professor James D. Dana, of Yale College, one of the most honored names in American science; and the Editor accompanies the portrait with an appreciative biographical sketch. The contents of the number are of the usual variety and excellence, though, in deference to the season, the proportion of light and entertaining articles is rather greater than is customary. The list is as follows: "The New Bulgaria," by an Eastern Statesman; "Chesterfield's Letters to His Son," by M. E. Grant-Duff, M.P.; "Food and Feeding," by Sir Henry Thompson; "Madame Recamier," "Calculating Boys," Richard A. Proctor, B.A.; "An Invitation to the Sledge," a poem, by J. A. Symonds; "Russian Court Life under Peter Third and Catherine Second;" "Historical Aspects of the American Churches," by Dean Stanley; "Schopenhauer on Men, Books, and Music;" "Madeniole de Merac," Chapters XIII. to XV.; "In the Royal Academy. A Dramatic Vignette," by Austin Dobson; "Village Life in the Apennines," by E. M. Clarke; "Recollections of Thackeray;" "London Bridge," a poem; the before-mentioned sketch of Professor Dana; and the Editorial Departments of Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Arts, and Varieties.

The Confederate Survivors Association

Of Newberry County met in Thespian Hall Saturday, the 19th instant. There was the largest attendance for several years. Y. J. Pope, President, stated the object of the meeting to be to devise some plans towards raising additional funds for erecting a Monument to the Confederate dead of the County, and to re-elect officers.

R. H. Wright, Treasurer, reported $711.75 on hand. There are subscriptions outstanding that will raise the amount to $800.

The question was discussed whether it were better to begin work with the $800, or to raise more; it was decided to bring the amount up to $1,000 at least.

There was some discussion as to the location of the Monument, but no action taken. Opinion seems to be divided between Rosemont Cemetery and the Public Square.

On motion the President appointed a committee of five to advertise for proposals, with plans and specifications, for a Monument to cost $1,000, having engraved upon it the names of the Confederate soldiers from this County who were killed or died in service. This committee is also charged with the duty of conferring with the ladies of the County and with the Thespian Corps in reference to raising the additional $200 needed. The committee consists of the following members of the Association: D. A. Dickert, O. L. Schumpert, Thompson, Conner, J. E. Brown and J. M. Johnston.

A committee of five was appointed to confer together concerning a suitable location for the Monument and to report to the Association at its next meeting. This committee has no power to choose a location, but only to make suggestions to the Association. The committee consists of Jno. K. G. Nance, J. Y. McFall, J. B. Campbell, Jacob Cronch and L. M. Speers. On motion the President was made a member, ex officio, of both the above committees.

The old officers were unanimously re-elected. They are: President, Y. J. Pope; Vice-Presidents, D. A. Dickert, J. K. G. Nance, Wm. Lester and Thos. J. Lipscomb; Secretary, J. M. Johnston; Treasurer, R. H. Wright.

The next meeting of the Association, which will be a very important one, will be held in Thespian Hall, Saturday in September next.

Virginia on South Carolina. Rev. S. A. Repass, D. D., of Salem, Va., after describing the Commencement at Newberry, in Our Church Paper, says:

Newberry, the seat of Newberry College, has a population of about three thousand. They are an intelligent and truly hospitable people, putting a just pride in their College, and vying with each other to entertain the visitors who annually attend upon its exercises. It is the highest compliment a Virginian can pay them, to say that they remind him of Virginians. The College building is, or rather will be when wholly completed, a superior edifice. The arrangements for dormitories, halls, and lecture rooms, are excellent. A better hall is needed for holding these public exercises; but our confidence in the enterprise of the citizens of Newberry and friends of the College generally, leaves us quite certain in the conviction that they will soon provide one adapted to their wants.

Nothing impressed us more favorably than the uniform good order observed during the exercises. There was none of that boisterous applauding, and very little of the needless compression that we have observed on similar occasions elsewhere. The lad boys had either remained at home, or with their parents, or perhaps Newberry has none such. At all events, they did not have charge of the occasion.

The deservedly popular President of the College and his efficient co-laborers may well congratulate themselves upon the recent Commencement. We did not go to criticize; but once there, we did institute a good deal of private inquiry, and the result is this, that Rev. G. W. Holland has proved himself a most efficient President, and that the instructors associated with him are scholarly gentlemen, doing most thorough work in their various departments.

Those having sons to educate will do well to consult the advantages of Newberry College. The Faculty and citizens will throw around them the best of moral and Christian influences, and their education will be conscientiously and ably directed.

While in South Carolina we had the privilege of preaching in Rev. J. D. Slire's charge to the congregations at Beth-Eden, in Pastorate No. 9, at Beth-eden, and of spending the Lord's Day with Rev. Dr. Rude in Columbia. This last visit gave us special pleasure; for he who cannot be entertained, instructed and edified in Dr. Rude's society, may well doubt his possession of sensibility (visibility) mind or heart. His congregation is devoted to him.

It was also our pleasure to be at the Central Conference, held at Bethel church, on Saturday, June 29th, where we met Revs. J. A. Sligh and Moser. We were specially gratified at the large congregation assembled to attend upon these Conference sessions. (During the vacancy of this pastorate, Bro. Sligh is acting as pastor of this congregation.) The heartiness of these people in the beautiful service of the Church, is truly refreshing. They worship, talk, laugh, and eat like an earnest people.—Lutheran Visitor.

Various and All About.

A bosom friend—a good landress.

Mr. Crowell began laying brick for his hotel Monday.

Charley Gary, colored, died in town Friday, the 18th instant.

The Ebenezer camp meeting will begin the last day of this month.

There are three good aids to the devil in this life—poverty, politics, and the tooth-ache.

Saluda River was so low last week that a little boy ten years old forded it a short distance above Chappell's.

The rice patch of the old colored man down by Scott's Creek is flourishing, not seeming to feel the drought at all.

Man is a trout—woman is the line; her smile, the float; her kiss, the bait. Love is the hook. And marriage is the frying pan.

Mr. Vanderbilt's income is over $1,000 an hour—which, says a Western editor, is more than some of us make in a whole day.

Messrs. Pool and Schumpert will begin to haul brick and sand this week for their hotel. They have about 400,000 brick made.

Mr. Reid, who has been miller at Bonknight's Mill, on Saluda River, for the past fourteen years, says he never saw the river as low as it is now.

This is the way a son of Erin surrounded Mary and her lamb:

"Begorry, Mary had a little shape, And the wool was white entirely, And whenever Mary would stir her stumps, The young shape would follow her completely."

An Irishman, fresh from the old country, found a tree full of green persimmons, and climbing to the top helped himself to the fruit. A passer-by overheard him say, "By the powers, an' I'm the lad that can knock the socks off the man that poured vinegar on these plums."

Collect some soot from a chimney or stove where wood is used for fuel, put into an old pitcher, and pour hot water upon it. When cool, use it to water your plants every few days. The effect upon plants is wonderful in producing a rapid growth of thrifty shoots, with large, thick leaves and a great number of richly tinted roses.

An enterprising music dealer announces among his selections: "Q. Say not Woman's Love is Bought for 10 cents; 'Thou hast Loved and Left Me' for 10 cents; 'Thou hast Learned to Love Another' for 10 cents, and 'Take Back the Heart Thou Gavest' for 10 cents, which shows that even the tender passion is affected by mercenary considerations.

A Kentucky gentleman and his two sons married a widow and her two daughters. After awhile the old man ran away with a daughter-in-law and one of the sons ran away with his mother-in-law. The remaining son then packed up and ran away with the remaining sister-in-law. They all ran away to avoid being in law.

Riches take wings to go to sleep. The cheery things Buzz in our ears Fill up our ear, And with a tick Without a fenn, And the best of luck, Won't some human try And get through a bill To choose of a fenn?

When he's got his fill? —New York People.

R. B. Keene to the front again, bawper than ever. Next door to M. Foot's.

Think of it. 'What a delightful, happy world this would be if we could but remember that we are all sprung from the same old stock, and consequently are all uncles, aunts and cousins to each other. If we would behave ourselves becomingly and act as if akin we might be as happy as the days are long. Unhappily there is not much love, and a heap of selfishness among the uncles and aunts and cousins of the present day, they won't even tell about a good thing lest some might be benefited or made glad, and if it were not for the newspaper editors whose hearts overflow with love to their fellows, many a good man and woman would go down to the grave without realizing many of the great blessings of life. Luckily we have it in our power to ameliorate this unhappy condition and do so on all occasions, and this time take particular pleasure in saying that housekeepers will find it to their advantage to make all their purchases of china, glass, crockery and other ware at Kingsland & Heath's elegant establishment in Columbia. There is no article in their extensive line but can be found in this store.
